No, the other bid will be for ongoing sampling. What's the address and a contact for the sample team to call? Thx.

The lab contact indicated any time tonight. He just needs a heads up to be there.

Should we continue to wait for the other bid?

Moira,

My cell phone number is 970-749-6865. I can meet someone at the lab at any time to receive samples but it would be extremely helpful to know what to expect here.

I just did the math on the cost and got about CBI/Ex. 4 per sample including the rush fee with the additional analytes (see attached). I can likely get you a slightly better discount based on volume, assuming it is 20 samples all at once, so it shouldn't be much over the price below. The difference is due to mercury being slightly more expensive than the other metals.

Again, because I am not sure of the state of preservation/filtration on these samples I cannot guarantee a specific turnaround time but we will do our best to get data out the door as it comes through. I worry if we cannot start the digest until tomorrow after hours that we may even struggle to complete the project on Saturday, but we will do our best.

Jacob,

Please confirm the quote below regarding the samples we recently discussed. All samples coming from ESAT this afternoon should be run for TAL Metals + Mercury, TDS and TSS. Please include Scott Butterfield (CC'd) on the lab results. I just received word that the samples may arrive later than normal business hours. Is it possible to have someone to receive these samples if this is the case?

Parameters	METHOD	Unit	No. of	Total
